A Track-Focused Porsche Built for Driving Enthusiasts

Discover this exceptional 2023 Porsche 718 Cayman GT4 RS Weissach for sale in Dubai, finished in crisp White with a purposeful Black and Blue interior. Showing just 4,000 km, this GCC-specification example brings together Porsche's motorsport-inspired engineering with one of the most desirable specifications available for the 718 Cayman GT4 RS.

Equipped with the Weissach Package, racing seats and extensive carbon fibre detailing, this GT4 RS has been configured with a clear focus on performance and visual impact. Distinctive blue rims complete the specification, creating a striking contrast against the White bodywork.

For enthusiasts searching for a Porsche 718 Cayman GT4 RS for sale in Dubai, this example offers the combination of low mileage, GCC specifications and highly desirable performance-focused options.

White Exterior with Extensive Carbon Fibre

The White exterior provides the perfect backdrop for the aggressive aerodynamic design of the GT4 RS. Its low stance, prominent air intakes and motorsport-derived details immediately distinguish it from a conventional Cayman.

This example features a carbon bonnet and additional carbon fibre exterior elements, creating a strong contrast with the White paintwork while reinforcing the lightweight philosophy behind the GT4 RS.

The Weissach Package takes that motorsport influence even further, giving this particular example a more specialised appearance. Completing the exterior are the distinctive blue rims, which introduce a bold flash of colour and make the specification instantly recognisable.

Black and Blue Racing-Inspired Interior

Inside, the Black and Blue interior continues the performance-focused theme. The colour combination works particularly well with the exterior wheels while creating a cockpit that feels suitably special for Porsche's most extreme 718.

This example is equipped with racing seats, helping to create a more focused environment for the driver and passenger. Extensive carbon fibre interior detailing further enhances the motorsport atmosphere and complements the carbon components used across the exterior.

Rather than approaching the GT4 RS as a conventional luxury sports car, Porsche designed the cabin around the driving experience. The result is an environment where performance, lightweight materials and driver engagement take priority.

4.0-Litre Naturally Aspirated Flat-Six Performance

At the heart of the 718 Cayman GT4 RS is a 4.0-litre naturally aspirated flat-six engine, derived from Porsche's GT engineering programme. Its high-revving character is central to what makes the GT4 RS such a distinctive modern Porsche.

Positioned behind the occupants, the engine contributes to the car's balanced mid-engined layout while delivering the immediate response and dramatic soundtrack enthusiasts expect from a Porsche RS model.

Combined with its focused chassis, aerodynamic package and automatic PDK transmission, the GT4 RS offers a driving experience created for owners who place engagement and precision at the top of their priorities.
